Management objective

The investment objective of this UCITS is to seek a performance net of expenses linked to the evolution of the equity market, over the recommended investment period. A benchmark index is not required for this type of management strategy, in which the manager is allowed flexibility in asset allocation. Nevertheless, the performance of the UCITS may be compared with that of an ex post comparable analysis index: MSCI Emerging countries. Asset allocation and performance may differ from the composition of the benchmark. The index is analysed at its closing price and expressed in euros, with dividends reinvested.

MONTHLY MANAGEMENT SUMMARY

March 28 2024

CM-AM GLOBAL EMERGING MARKETS

MANAGEMENT COMMENTARY

Emerging markets rose by +2.2% (in USD) in March, underperforming global equities (+3.0%). Most of the region's currencies depreciated against the US dollar. The main contributors were Taiwan, mainland China and Mexico, as well as technology, materials and industry. Negative contributors to the fund's performance included AIA (-17.3%, Insurance, Asia). The good results linked to the resumption of business in China and Hong Kong were impacted by the lack of new information on share buybacks and the dividend, as well as a temporary increase in demand for medical expense reimbursements in China, which is in a post-Covid catch-up phase. Samsung Electronics and TSMC were among the top contributors over the month (+10.1% and +11.5%). They were driven by the recovery in the memory market and the continued development of AI. Techtronic (China), a leader in power tools, gained +25.2% thanks to the renewed acceleration of growth in H2 and conservative forecasts for 2024. Some positions in South Korea, Hyundai Motor and Samsung SDI, were trimmed following the rebound driven by planned shareholder return reforms in South Korea. We also took profits on Itau, Walmex and Banorte in Latin America.
